You served more than 225,950 people in 2014
YOU ARE A HERO, A DEFENDER OF THE HELPLESS.

- YOU are loved beyond your comprehension, because YOU literally seized children—hundreds of them—from the jaws of death.
- YOU rescued girls from the sexual slavery their traffickers held them in.
- YOU provided clean water for people who never had it before.
- YOU have done so much more than we could ever share. THANK YOU!

Below is a brief story of a family who will never be the same, because of YOU!

Ali and his wife Adom have three boys who were 4, 6 and 7 when we discovered them. The boys were starving to death. Ali tries to work every day. On days when he finds work, he earns just 50 cents for a full day’s labor. Adom, due to the extreme poverty they live in, told us, “I don’t think there is anything to work in my area. The people mind their own business because they don’t have money to pay or they are as poor as I am.”

Their youngest child is sick. Adom explained to us, “My son’s problem is not known to me because we did not take him to a clinic. The rural vicinity we live in does not have a clinic, and we do not have money to take him to another place because we just don’t have money for that. My husband is a strong man who digs plantation owners’ land for ten birr (fifty cents) per day. We use all of the money he gets for food.”

Ali and his family entered your feeding program in October 2014. The family still has many challenges ahead of them, but one they will never have to face is burying their children due to starvation. YOU have changed this family forever!

“I never knew what I was worth, until now. Thank you!” This is what one of the American girls you rescued from sexual slavery said to us.

Your US Refuge home has served more than 50 American victims from the gruesome life... of sex trafficking since opening in December 2012. Last year you helped 26 American girls ages 13 to 26 years old at the home.

When the girls come to the home, our first goal is to help them feel safe and meet medical and mental health needs. You provided hundreds of clinic, prenatal, psychiatric, counseling, hospital and dental appointments last year, as well as many other services. Some girls suffered from addictions; but with the help of our partners, they benefitted from in- and outpatient substance abuse programs.

We are often asked how we measure success. Though we measure very specific outcomes and indicators, overall success is measured by each step a girl chooses to take toward her life plan. Some girls attended high school, GED classes, and college last year, while others were working on basic daily hygiene, trust and safety issues. We had 7 girls who were placed in new jobs last year; others were just not ready yet.

Here are quotes from the girls about your home:

“This program saved my life. I finally have a family. I am very grateful to be here.”

“I have made it into college! I’m making good grades and good friends. I’m actually happy and enjoying life like a girl my age should.”

“I am learning to control my anger.”

“I am blessed to have awesome staff.”

“The importance to me was the groups where we could talk about our feelings. I really appreciate all the care when I was with you. I am in a 100% better place. It meant a lot to me that I could stay in touch beyond the Refuge home. Also that I made lifelong friends.”

You came alongside each of these girls, offering them hope and encouragement. You said to each girl, “Yes, I do believe in you.” And YOU did this with incredible generosity.
